Mary Price Dunn is founder of The Legacy Workshop, and a popular retreat leader. As a distinguished leader in the nonprofit sector, Mary has pioneered programs to engage people – just as they are – in courageous and hopeful change. While serving as CEO of a charitable foundation, she developed a groundbreaking, grassroots initiative to help people build stronger, healthier communities in the rural towns and villages of New Mexico. It continues changing lives today. Later, as a consultant helping nonprofits build organizational and resource capacity, Mary recognized that "legacy" holds a much deeper meaning for most people than the property we leave behind at the end of life.
