

The Boundless Compassion Facilitator Workshop Requirements for Participation:

The Boundless Compassion program consists of a many textured approaches that includes receiving information on the topic from a variety of disciplines and resources, as well as integrating the contents into one's personal and professional life. This integration is accomplished within a group environment where creative processes and directed quiet time provide opportunities for in-depth assimilation of the core content.

Registration for the Facilitator Workshop is based on the following prerequisites.

1. Participation in the following, led by a certified, trained Boundless Compassion facilitator:
 - The Four Day Boundless Compassion retreat during which the foundation and basic principles of the program are presented and integrated into one's life through reflection and dialogue.
2. A detailed Application is submitted by anyone desiring to participate in the training workshop. Some forms are available online with the description of the training workshop at www.boundlesscompassion.org. Applications can be received by contacting: bbussan@boundlesscompassion.org
